Getting started at UBC Library

COLLECTIONS

Explore the Library

As the second largest research library in Canada, our collections include more than 7.8 million items. There is something for everyone, whether you come to visit the Chung Collection, view artwork in the Irving K. Barber Learning Centre, or need guest access to computers and electronic resources.

Your Library card

People unaffiliated with UBC who want to borrow Library materials or use fee-based Library services such as interlibrary loan may be eligible for one of the following Library Cards:

- Community Borrower Cards for individual members of the public.
- Institutional Borrower Cards for businesses, corporations and government departments.
- UBC community cards: anyone with a C+CP Community Services Card receives free library access upon validation at Koerner Library.
- Guest access: On campus for just the day? You can use guest-access computers to access unrestricted resources: resources.library.ubc.ca

Please note that remote access to most online resources is restricted.

How to sign up for a card

- Apply in person at Walter C. Koerner Library or at the Okanagan Library in Kelowna.
- Library cards are $40 for a 4-month pass or $120 per year.
- For more information on borrowing privileges, visit: services.library.ubc.ca

Publicly-accessible Open Collections

The Library's Open Collections include digital photos, books, newspapers, maps, videos, theses and more. These publicly-accessible collections bring together locally created and managed content from the Library's open access repositories. Featured collections are the Uno Langmann Family Collection of British Columbia Photographs, UBC's First 100 Theses, and the Chung Collection. Explore now: open.library.ubc.ca

Rare Books and Special Collections

RBSC at the Library is home to rare books, archival materials, maps, photographs, broadsides and pamphlets, and much more. All of RBSC's collections are available to members of the public and UBC community on request and through weekly tours. Highlights include the Wallace B. and Madeline H. Chung Collection, the Uno Langmann Family Collection of B.C. Photographs, the Japanese Canadian Research Collection, the Arkley Collection of Early and Historical Children's Literature, among others.
