Getting started at UBC Library

Explore the Library
As the second largest research library in Canada, our collections include 8.3 million items. There is something for everyone, whether you come to visit the Chung Collection, view artwork in the Irving K. Barber Learning Centre, or need guest access to computers and electronic resources.

Your Library card
People unaffiliated with UBC who want to borrow Library materials or use fee-based Library services such as interlibrary loan may be eligible for one of the following Library Cards:

- Community Borrower Cards for individual members of the public.
- Institutional Borrower Cards for businesses, corporations and government departments.
- UBC community cards: anyone with a C+CP Community Services Card receives free library access upon validation at Koerner Library.
- Guest access: On campus for just the day? You can use guest-access computers to access unrestricted resources: resources.library.ubc.ca.

Please note that remote access to most online resources is restricted.

How to sign up for a card
- Apply in person at Walter C. Koerner Library or at the UBC Okanagan Library in Kelowna.
- Library cards are $40 for a 4-month pass or $120 per year.
- For more information on borrowing privileges, visit: services.library.ubc.ca
